What is the Tobishima Kaido?

The Tobishima Kaido is a set of five picturesque islands in the Seto Inland Sea connected by bridges to the mainland.

You can access the islands by car, bus or ferry. The Tobishima Kaido is also proving popular among cyclists looking for another challenge after the Shimanami Kaido.

How to Access

Hiroshima's Idyllic Island Town

Mitarai feels detached from the frantic pace of modern Japan. The charming streets and alleyways of Mitarai meander through beautifully preserved Japanese houses - some dating back over 200 years. Seasonal flower arrangements hang off the houses in bamboo vases and the townsfolk go about their day at an unhurried pace.

Situated in the middle of the Seto Inland Sea, Mitarai is one of only three designated historical preservation districts in Hiroshima Prefecture. This small harbor town is a short drive from Hiroshima or a short ferry ride from Takehara and the Shimanami Kaido Islands.

So come to this undiscovered corner of Japan. Come and experience Mitarai.
